

9th February 2022

Dear Parents and Guardians,

I will write more fully at the beginning of next week, also including some information about the Project Week that your children, our students, are involved in right now.

But I thought I should alert you that a major show on German television, Tagesthemen, will be featuring RBC tonight (Wednesday). Here is a link to the four-minute clip that we have been provided, which is scheduled to be broadcast at 22:25:

Apologies to our Parents and Guardians who do not speak German: I hope that at least you enjoy a visual glimpse into aspects of an RBC day!

With best wishes
